HON. W. J. BRYAN'S RECEPTION IN NEW YORK

BRYAN'S SECOND SPEECH.
TO DEMOCRATS OF NEW YORK LAST NIGHT.
(By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

New York, Oct. 16.—The crowd that surged about the open air stand at Madison avenue and Twenty-fourth street, crushing the weakest and smothering those who were so lightly packed that the air, which reeked with the fumes of Greek fire, could not reach them, may have numbered 20,000, and there was not in that crowd anybody who cared to hear any one else but Bryan. Half a dozen speakers attempted to keep them quiet until the Presidential candidate came from the Garden, but the most successful speaker had a hard job of it.

Those who had points of vantage on the stand did little to encourage the speakers, for their interest was taken up by the waves of humanity in front and on all sides of the stand.

It was shortly after 9 o'clock when the cavalcade heading the Bryan party rode down Madison avenue to the stand. The carriages could not drive within fifty feet of it and Colonel Bryan, Mr. Croker, Mr. Hearst and James Shevlin, of Brooklyn, who were in the carriages, walked to the stand.

A DEAFENING ORATION.
The oration to the candidate was deafeningly loud and prolonged. After shaking hands with Mr. Keller and those on the stand who could stretch their hands to him, Colonel Bryan stood facing the crowd in front of the stand. He uncovered his head, but the bombs were exploding in the air over head, and the fire from one almost struck him. Bryan drew away as if to dodge it. The band was still playing "Hail to the Chief" when Colonel Bryan outstretched his hand to the audience to command quiet. He said:

THIS SPEECH.
"We want to make this Government what the fathers intended to make of it and give equal rights to all and special privileges to none. If by your suffrages I am made President I will not try to get your hands in other people's pockets; I shall be satisfied to keep other people's hands out of your pockets. If you believe the trusts are a good thing, vote the Republican ticket and get all you want of it. If you believe trusts are bad vote our ticket. If you believe in a large army vote the Republican ticket and get it. If you believe in a small army, we promise that you shall have a small army and a Government so good that every citizen will be willing to become a soldier to preserve the Government to posterity. We want imperialism, we want the Republic. If our party is entrusted with power we will say to the Filipino and all the world that our purpose is not to govern the Filipino, but establish a government for them that will be theirs and not ours. We will say to the world: Hands off. Let that republic live and work out its own destiny."

A WONDERFUL DEMONSTRATION.
The minute Colonel Bryan stopped speaking Mr. Croker took his arm and led him to the rear of the stand to see the crowd assembled there. He waved his hand to them, and Mr. Croker asked him: "Did you ever see anything like it?"
"Wonderful, wonderful," Colonel Bryan said.

Then the party, after handshaking all round, left the stand and got into the carriages.
The trip to Tammany Hall was made through streets lined with cheering thousands. Colonel Bryan and his party arrived at 9:25. Senator Mackey was speaking, but as soon as the crowd recognized Bryan it rose to its feet and cheered for several minutes. Richard Croker, who accompanied Colonel Bryan, took a seat on the rear of the platform, while the candidate went to the front and acknowledged the greeting.

TWO MORE SPEECHES.
Mr. Bryan also spoke at Tammany Hall and at Cooper Union to great crowds last night, and evoked tremendous applause.

Sneeze and Flow.
but you cannot get permanent relief from Catarrh unless you purify your blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla does this, soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces, removes all scrofulous taints, and cures catarrh.

Sick headache is cured by Hood's Pills.

LORD SALISBURY, PREMIER OF GREAT BRITAIN.

Lord Salisbury has reason to view the recent Parliamentary elections in Great Britain with satisfaction. Lord Roberts is winding up his victorious campaign in South Africa, the situation in China remains too intricate to permit any change of policy, and the Ministers have been flatteringly endorsed by the votes of the Kingdom.

Norfolk Local (Continued.)

Six Miniature Revenue Cutters.

The six little revenue cutters just completed for Uncle Sam at Elizabethport entered the Capes yesterday afternoon, and will coast up, either at Norfolk or Newport News. They have been expected here for some time. There are a number of newly built revenue cutters just completed at the yard of Lewis Nixon, at Elizabethport, for the United States government, and as they are the smallest vessels of their type that fly the United States flag, they will excite much interest.

Their field of duty will be in Cuban waters, and their light draft enables them to shoot into shallow places where smugglers or other lawbreakers may resort.
From Hampton Roads the fleet will probably go through the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal and then along the inlets fringing the coast to Key West, and from there across to Cuba, all the way under their own steam.
The boats were built with only 30 inches draught. They are all steel, and each one is armed with a rapid-fire gun set forward. The hulls of the boats are painted white, and the superstructures are painted yellow. From a distance these boats resemble a fleet of small battleships. Each boat carries twelve enlisted men. Several local engineers have, it is said, been offered positions as engineers on them at $100 per month.

The boats carry 26-inch screws, yet the draught of the boat is but 30 inches. The propellers are extended above the water line and yet dipping below the water line at its edges, so that the screws work in solid water, held by atmospheric pressure.
These boats are marvels in economy and efficiency on small dimensions. Four of them are sixty feet long, while the flagship is seventy feet long. The captain and engineer have comfortable quarters, as good as any one on the torpedo boats. Each boat has ten feet beam and a freeboard of about six feet. The engines are six by twelve inches in diameter, with nine-inch stroke, and steam up to 200 pounds is supplied by a Roberts water tubular boiler.
The speed of the boats is 10 knots, but they have demonstrated they can travel 1½ knots.

Democratic Meeting at Churchland

A number of the Democrats of West-Branch district met at Churchland yesterday evening for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm among the Democrats and getting out a full Democratic vote at the coming election—C. W. Coleman, chairman; A. B. Carney, secretary.

Among other things it was decided to have a big Democratic rally and oyster roast at Churchland on the 29th instant, when addresses will be made by Hon. S. L. Kelley, of Richmond, one of the Presidential electors; Judge D. Tucker Brooke, of Norfolk and other prominent Democratic speakers.

There will be another meeting at the same place on Monday, the 23d instant, at 3:30 p. m., for the purpose of making final arrangements for the big rally on the 29th instant, and of adopting such other measures as will be helpful to the party.

AMUSEMENTS.

MR. N. C. GOODWIN.

Mr. N. C. Goodwin and Miss Maxine Elliott will present what is considered the most artistic achievement of their brilliant careers, "When We Were Twenty-one," at the Academy of Music Friday evening. This is the comedy which gave them last season the longest run they ever had in New York, and which next season they will take to London for presentation at a prominent theatre. It goes without saying that this will be a real letter event in local theatricals. Already the indications are that from the financial standpoint their visit will be a record-smashing one. Sale of seats commences this morning at 9 a. m. Prices—25 cents to $2.00.

"THE PRISONER OF ZENDA."

Anyone who has watched the association of the stage with the bookstore, cannot but note the tremendous activity during the past few months in the field of historical and romantic literature and the great number of plays conned therefrom. The success of "The Prisoner of Zenda" can be attributed not only to its worth as a literary work, but to its individual sterling merit as a play. It is now on tour, and will be here at the Academy of Music, Saturday matinee and night. No advance in prices. Saturday matinee, 25 cents.

FROHMAN'S COMEDIANS.

Here is a quartette of names seldom found at the head of a comedy organization—E. B. Holland, Fritz Williams, Isabel Irving and May Robson. They are the leading spirits in Charles Frohman's comedians which will present the piquant French farce, with the title of "Self and Lady," at Van Wyck's Academy of Music next Monday evening, October 22. Every name in this quartette is entitled to stellar honors, but they have been induced to come together so that Mr. Frohman's name-company may be the best of its kind in the world. Mr. Frohman's ambition in this connection is considered by all dramatic authorities to be an accomplished feat, surrounding these comedians are others of splendid reputation, including Arnold Daly, James Kenney, Jay Wilson, T. T. Edginger, Maggie Holloway Fisher, Marie Dickerson, May Lambert, Nettie Butler and May Gayer. The Frohman name is a guarantee that the presentation will be complete in every detail.

LAMBERT'S POINT.

DEATH OF AN ESTIMABLE LADY—OTHER ITEMS.

The many friends of Mrs. Annie A. Griffith will learn with sorrow of her death, which occurred at her home, on Rappahannock avenue, at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, after a painful and lingering illness, which she bore with fortitude and Christian resignation. The deceased was one of the best known and most beloved ladies in the community. Prior to her fatal sickness she was an active participant in all that tended to the good of those within the circle of her acquaintance. She was a friend to the poor and needy, and never thought it too much to administer at all times to their relief. In her death the church has lost one of its brightest ornaments. She leaves a mother, husband and a sister, Mrs. M. E. Jones, to whom the tenderest sympathies of the community go out in this their hour of bereavement. The funeral will take place from the Methodist Church at 10 o'clock this morning.

Encouraged by the fine success which attended the dance given by the Pioneer Fire and Salvage Company last Friday night, the members have decided to repeat it next Friday night at the company's assembly room, on Thirty-sixth street, when there will be greater attractions offered to induce the young and gay to participate. The mazes of the dance will be a prominent feature, with choice refreshments added. Let all who may wish to enjoy an evening of unalloyed pleasure be on hand.
Rev. John W. Carroll will begin a protracted meeting at the Methodist Church next Sunday night looking to a revival of religion.

The Sunbeam Society of Burrows Memorial Baptist Church was organized recently with a membership of forty, and has elected the following officers: Miss Nellie Moore, president; Miss Maggie Backus, vice president; Miss Lois Moore, secretary; Miss Eva Frizzell, treasurer; Miss Courtney Mallory, organist; Miss Sallie Martin, assistant organist. This society of better acquainted and recitations by young, active Christian workers will prove a helpful auxiliary to the church.

BRAMBLETON.

Brambleton Lodge, No. 56, K. of P., will give the first of a series of socials and entertainments on Thursday night, October 18th, in Ingram's Hall. This entertainment is for the especial benefit of their own lodge, and for the purpose of getting together all their members socially, so they may become better acquainted with each other. There will be music and recitations by lodge talent and refreshments will be served. After the refreshments those who desire may stay and indulge in the pleasures of the mazy dance. All members of No. 56 are invited to be present and to bring their families.
Miss Mary Parker Rodgers, youngest daughter of Mrs. Lulu Rodgers, of East Brambleton avenue, received the first prize for the handsomest rug exhibited at the State Fair.

At the Memorial Christian Temple at 7:30 o'clock this evening a series of exercises will begin, conducted by the Christian Missionary Alliance. These exercises will continue through the week at the following hours, 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. A cordial welcome to all.

HUNTERSVILLE.

Rev. Paul Bradley, the popular pastor of the Liberty Street M. E. Church, Berkeley, will preach at the Methodist Church Sunday night. At 11 a. m. the "Children's Service."

Great excitement and curiosity have been aroused over the "Belle of Huntersville," in the entertainment to be given Monday night at the Odd Fellows' Hall, "The American Beauties" will also appear in a tableau. There will also be fine music and humorous recitations.

Mr. A. H. Foreman, principal of the public school, grows in popularity and influence with the community. He resides with Mrs. E. E. Lee, on Outten street.

Miss Sallie A. Travis, who has been critically ill with typhoid fever, is reported as much improved.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST.

The Old Dominion steamer James-town, which the press dispatches of yesterday reported to be in collision on the coast, was in port yesterday afternoon. Mr. Crowell, agent of the company at Norfolk, reports that all the other vessels of that line are safe, and that the report of trouble with the Jamestown was entirely unfounded.
An official visit was paid to Ruth Lodge of Masons last night by District Deputy Grand Master Oliver.
Several of the open cars of the Ocean View and Old Point Railway have been converted into winter cars for the comfort of the traffic over that line.

TO RESUME WORK.

Cotton Oil and Fiber Company's Mills to Start.

After Being Idle all Summer, the Mills Will Start With Plenty of Work—Marriage in North Carolina—Services at Synagogue.

The Cotton Oil and Fibre Company oil mill that has been standing idle all the summer for the lack of material (it having begun operating too late last season to secure a supply for the summer) will start up either Friday or next Monday in full bloom to run night and day. The fibre mill will start operating later in the season. The starting up of the oil mill will give employment to two sets of men, about 50 men in each shift. So the men who were thrown out of employment by one of the large railroads in the community having discontinued work for the purpose some say to intimidate voters, need not worry for want of work.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.
Frank Simmons, colored, who is well known in the vicinity of Mr. Etheredge's livery stables, was caught by Andrew Hardy, also colored, in his house, and Hardy had him arrested, and Officer Grier locked him up last night at 7:30 o'clock. Hardy's wife had gone away and had left the keys with her husband. Simmons knowing this took advantage of his opportunity and secured a ladder and went in one of the windows and had broken open a trunk from which he took $2.25 and was in the act of breaking open another trunk when Hardy walked in on him. He took him in custody and turned him over to the officer. He will have a hearing this morning, and will in all probability be sent on to the grand jury for larceny.

TRIED WHILE IN BED. THE CASE OF YOUTSEY IN KENTUCKY COURT. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot.)

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 16.—Henry E. Youtsey, on trial charged with being a principal in the shooting of Governor Geobal, was still unable to enter the court room to-day. Lying on his bed, he was drawn to the door of the jury room, in plain view of those in the court room, and the trial proceeded.

At the afternoon session the defense moved to discharge the jury and continue the case because the defendant was still unconscious and in a worse condition than before.

Judge Cantrell overruled the motion. The defense asked that Youtsey be called as a witness.

The sheriff called, but Youtsey did not answer. The defense asked that he be brought into court.

"He is already in court," said the judge.

"We want him on the witness stand," said Colonel Nelson.

"Very well, bring him in, Mr. Sheriff, and put him on the stand," said the judge.

Deputies and guards brought Youtsey in on his bed, which they placed in front of the jury. Colonel Nelson asked Youtsey several questions, but received no sort of response, the defendant lying as one dead.

"We can get no response from the witness," said Colonel Nelson.

"Very well, let him stand aside," said the judge, and the bed was carried back to the jury room.

Colonel Nelson made another motion to discharge the jury because the defendant was not really in court facing his accusers, but simply an unconscious body. The judge said the law provided that before he could discharge the jury the defendant must be adjudged a lunatic.

Jim Howard will go on the stand tomorrow and swear Youtsey did not let him in Powers' office, and that he was not even in the building.

The defense expects to rest its case to-morrow.

Editor Virginian-Pilot:

In your paper of yesterday, the Richmond letter stated that Mr. Hobson and the Populist party of Virginia would support the Democratic ticket this fall, and there was no Populist party in Virginia. Had the gentleman called on Mr. J. T. Lawless he might have learned that there is a People's party in Virginia, which have filed their ticket with him, and that Barker and Donnelly electors will be on the National ticket the 6th of November, 1900. Had we a fair and honest election law in the State, by this time not only young Richmond correspondents, but all voters would know what parties and what candidates would be on our ticket November 6th, 1900. Let us content for such changes in our election laws, as will cause, to be published, the ballots or tickets in all papers thirty days before an election, and no one but a blind man or a copper be allowed to vote who can't prepare his own ballot. This is all the qualification we need, as the ballot can be posted or used not nearer than 100 feet of polls.
